FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE TO HOUSE WITH FAMILY AWAY

A.H.S. Ice Men Tie Melrose; Quintet Loses

While Arlington High's hockey sextet was making a great come-back to tie Melrose High, 2 to 2, on the Boston Garden ice, Coach Bill Lowder's basketball men were taking it on the chin at Fitchburg High to the tune of 43 to 16 last night.

The Arlington-Melrose game was full of fireworks as a hard-fighting Red and Gray aggregation came from behind on two successive occasions to tie the score. Foster of Melrose scored in the first five minutes of play but in the second period, Mee took the puck from Lax and sent a sizzling shot to make it one all. Sullivan scored the other Arlington counter when Arlington put on a real barrage in the Melrose zone. The summary:

MELROSE	ARLINGTON
Berenger, DeCoste, Priestly, Carpenter, Foster, Conway, c, Lax, Gardella	Johnson, Swain, McGuinness, rw, Norberg, Sullivan
Chaisson, Mayne, ld, Lane	Thivierge, Shaw, Rotundi, rd
Thayer, g	ld, Collins
Score—Melrose 2, Arlington 2.	First period: Foster (DeCoste)
Second period: Mee, Thivierge.	Third period: Sullivan (Gardella).
Referees—Kelleher and Mansur.	Time—Three 12m periods.

HOOPMEN LOSE, 43-16
In a routine game which was mainly featured by Fitchburg High's passing, the Fitchburg team easily turned back Arlington High, 43-16 at the B. F. Brown Gym.

Fitchburg High, Team B, downed the Arlington High seconds, 24-23. The summary of the main game:

Kelleher Home At 2 Langley Road Badly Damaged By Flames and Water — Fire Starts In Cellar and Makes Way Through Roof — Walls and Interior of House Suffer Greatest Damage — Firemen Forced To Break Entrance Into Burning Home

Fire which broke out in the home of Timothy F. Kelleher, at 2 Langley rd, yesterday morning caused damage estimated at between two and four thousand dollars. Under the personal supervision of Chief Daniel B. Tierney firemen from Central and Highland stations battled the blaze for two hours. Most of the damage was confined to the inside of the house.

The blaze started in the cellar, between the ceiling and floor of the hallway at the rear of the house. The family had left the house early in the morning and once the fire got going it had a real start. The flames ate their way between the floor and ceiling and broke clear through the floor. It was only a short time before the fire spread through a wide area on the first floor and when firemen arrived the flames had eaten their way through the partitions in the kitchen and then to the upper floor. Two bedrooms on the second floor were the prey of flames before firemen arrived.

Securely Locked
A neighbor discovered smoke coming from the house and telephoned the fire department. Several pieces of apparatus from the Central station responded and soon afterwards Chief Tierney called for the ladder truck and engine from Highland Station. A short time ago, the house was broken into and a man arrested for the "job" is now serving a

MURRAY EXPRESSES VIEWS ON BOSTON ELEVATED DEFICIT

Arthur R. Murray, candidate for selectman issued the following statement today:

Public sentiment is always more powerful, Mr. Davis than any clique, who try to shape the course of government to their desires. Therefore it is the duty of each citizen of Arlington, to act. We cannot sit idly by like we have been and trust to our State Representatives in the Legislature. We must retire legislators who will not carry out the public will. In our Town of Arlington there is the nucleus of public spirit and good citizenship, we have a Chamber of Commerce, a taxpayers' league and many other organizations. In each of such groups there are men who can think and speak, but do not have the courage to move against our State Representatives who vote against "Bills" that concern their constituents in their communities. Such men should drop the fear of criticism and the contentment of sitting silence. They should search each other out. The question that bothers our citizens is "What Are We Going To Do About It"? We have no leader! Well my own personal opinion is we first must have Corrective Legislation. We must mobilize civic energies of this community to tell them what our State Representatives are doing in the Legislature. We must get rid of any political parasites

"PILATE'S DAUGHTER" TO BE PRESENTED AGAIN THIS YEAR

The famous Passion Play "Pilate's Daughter" has become the great Lenten event of all New England. Every year as the season of Penance draws near people come in crowds from all parts of Greater Boston and from the nearby towns to relive again the days of Christ's Passion and death. This year preparations have been made on a grand scale. It is the thirty-second season for "Pilate's Daughter". And because of the Holy Year, which ends April 1st, the Father in charge of production of the play has made most elaborate plans.

The play was written by a Redemptorist priest, Rev. F. Kenzel, C. SS. R. over thirty-five years ago. He wanted to give the young women of the Mission Church Parish in Roxbury an opportunity to show their devotion to the Sacred Passion of Christ in a vivid and practical way. And so he chose a drama that would revive a tradition sacred to Christian hearts. He took the story of the rose which Claudia, Pilate's Daughter, threw from the balcony of her home when Christ went forth to die. The rose touched the garment of the Saviour and henceforth never faded. The Passion Play takes us back to the early Christian times and the doings of the early martyrs are presented in a spectacular way.

"Pilate's Daughter" has entirely a female cast. It is staged by the young women of the Mission Church Parish, Roxbury.

For two months they give themselves over to practicing for the play each year. And before the curtain rises on the first performance they make a day of retreat. They give over one day to prayer and reflection in order that they may rouse in their own hearts long before they appear before the footlights a love for the Saviour of mankind.

This Passion Play has been witnessed by over 800,000 people since it was first staged in St. Alphonsus Hall many years ago. Today the yearly attendance averages 20,000. Every performance takes place in St. Alphonsus Hall, 80 Smith st, Roxbury. And this season special arrangements have been made to increase the seating capacity of the hall.

"Pilate's Daughter" will be staged every Thursday evening at 8.20 and every Sunday afternoon at 2.30 during Lent, that is from Feb. 15th to March 27th. It is an ideal play for the theatre-goers who because of Lent would avoid all frivolous entertainment. It is a sacred drama that no one should miss. There are two special matinees for the children on Sunday Feb. 4th at 2.30 and Sunday, February 11th at 2.30. On Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22nd there will be an afternoon and evening performance. Tickets for "Pilate's Daughter" may be reserved by phoning Highlands 4500 or addressing mail to "Pilate's Daughter," 1545 Tremont St. Roxbury, Mass.

Critically Wounded

Mrs. Charles Merrill Chapin, Jr., prominent New York society sports-woman, who is in a critical condition as the result of being shot by accidental discharge of her shotgun while hunting on the Chapin estate near Thomasville, Ga. Physicians performed a blood transfusion in battle to save her life

MODERN THEATRE

"Enlighten Thy Daughter" calls to account those millions of mothers whose silence about discussing the vital facts of life with their daughters has been responsible for the ruination of so many young girls; the picture traces the lives of two young girls, cousins, brought up and educated in the same town. One, the daughter of a Professional reformer, has been reared in ignorance of sex problems and suffers a tragic fate because of her ignorance. The other, a daughter of a physician, meets life successfully and happily, for she is armed with understanding.

The companion feature at the Modern will be "Horse Play" Universal's newest comedy hit, co-starring Slim Summerville and Andy Devine with Lella Hyams playing the feminine lead.

Grayce Thorson's Highlights

A MAN WAS ENJOYING his restaurant dinner until he found—of all things—a roach in the vegetables! He called the proprietor and complained. Fearing that the customer might tell others of this disastrous happening, the restaurant owner didn't charge him for his dinner.

Incidents similar to this, by the way, may be the cause of another well known racket. The racket of the "mouse in the soup" is being revived here in New York. An innocent-looking restaurant patron orders soup; when he is sure no one is looking his way, he takes a deceased mouse from some hidden pocket, deposits it in the soup, and immediately begins to loudly complain. The victim restaurant owner offers much money to quell the customer's ire and to assure his silence on the subject.

WHEN RETURNING FROM a visit with friends at Sea Gate, just after I had crossed the Williamsburg Bridge, I decided to drive along the Bowery. Now this thoroughfare is interesting for many reasons, but where but there would one see such signs as—Stout Bros. Trucking & Piano Moving—Dauber Bros. Paint & Varnishes—Dr. Graboff, Dentist. I've been wondering how the Owl Hotel got its name? And do you suppose the One Mile House was originally located just a mile from the center of municipal activity?

The White House advertises—Rooms 40 cents For Men. Another Hotel sign reads—Men Only—Rooms 25-30-35 cents. Women evidently are not supposed to need such things as inexpensive sleeping quarters in the Bowery!

IN AN EARLIER COLUMN I mentioned the actress who secured a nice theatrical engagement because of her trained goose. When Bozo, the goose, died from the ill effects of a swallowed safety pin, the theatrical producer told the actress to get another goose, teach it just a few tricks, and all would be well.

The actress searched Manhattan Island from one end to the other for a goose and finally found one, which she immediately purchased. While it differs from the one that swallowed the pin—its tail feathers are shorter and its neck is longer—the actress has given it the same name—Bozo. She bought it on Thursday and by Sunday it was following her faithfully wherever she went, and would answer to her call. So the actress will be in the production and, with her goose, will start rehearsals at once.

AT PENNSYLVANIA STATION those doors that work automatically in obedience to an "electric eye" are causing quite a sensation. To a casual observer it just seems as though a beam of light shines forth and has something to do with the opening of the doors, but what delicate intricacy must be hidden there somewhere!

As I watched people passing back and forth through these automatically opened doors, it was interesting to note the reactions of different individuals. One woman walked briskly along until she approached the portals; when they opened so mysteriously without any aid from her, she stopped abruptly and then backed away from them as though retreating from a ghost. Never taking her eyes from the automatic doors, she pushed her way through the ordinary ones and then stood in awed amazement, watching people pass through other portals.

Several people kept going back and forth just for the fun of seeing the doors open unaided. Others simply cast their shadows in front of the gleaming light and watched the doors open and close. One fellow who wasn't looking and who consequently didn't notice the portals open for him, had his hand up and gave a push at the place where the door should have been, and almost landed on his face. His astonishment was funny!

DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON a bootblack was all dressed up in frock coat, scarf, and silk hat; his chair-stand was also appropriately covered in the red and white of the merry season, and sported a sign—"A Happy New Year."

The recent heavy snowfall brought joy to many who love the flaky white drops and the holiday atmosphere created by a snowfall. Children revelled in the white downy covering in Central Park. But during this storm I saw an unusual sight, one which I haven't yet been able to understand. A man walked out to the very center of that busy, popular street, Broadway, removed his shoes, and in his stocking feet, stood on the snow-soaked surface lifting his face to the heavy, falling flakes as though in defiance of something or other. Did he want to entertain pneumonia? Or did he want to prove that, unless he fostered the thought, sickness would not, could not, come to him?

ON THE SWANKY EAST SIDE, a street singer strolls up and down the sidewalks singing through his large megaphone for the benefit of those within those spacious homes. His voice is an appealing, well-rounded one. As we listen to a "street singer" on radio or stage, the romance of the idea is intriguing and rarely do we visualize a singer actually performing on the street.

I'll wager this street singer is hoping some influential resident of those East Side mansions will become sufficiently interested in him to see that he soon has a place as the "street singer" of radio, stage, or screen instead of reality!

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

A Dependable Family Income

By IRVIN S. COBB

FORMERLY, in one of the Southern states the insane were not always sent to an institution. Sometimes they were formally awarded into the custody of someone, usually a parent or a guardian, and for the keep of such an unfortunate the state paid one hundred dollars a year. This amount, in certain sections, was regarded as a handsome addition to the family income.

One summer, a citizen from the lowlands was up in the hill country of his native state taking title to coal lands for an Eastern syndicate. In a canoe, with a native to guide him, he was proceeding along a creek that penetrated into one of the wildest and most desolate recesses of the mountains.

They came to a homestead that was infinitely better looking than any they had seen for days. The house was of clapboards instead of the customary logs, and it was painted. The fences were stout and newly whitewashed. The stock in the barn lot had a well-nourished look.

"Who lives here?" inquired the stranger.

The guide told him.

"Judging by the looks of his place," said the lowlander, "he must be a forehanded man."

"He certainly is," said the native. "He's forehanded, but he's had a right of luck in his time, too. He's got eleven children and all of 'em is idiots."

LUPE VELEZ

JOHNNY WEISSMULLER AS TARZAN

BOBBE ARNST

While admitting that she still loves him, Lupe Velez, dynamic Mexican film star, has not much hope that the trial separation agreed to by her and Johnny Weissmuller will result in reconciliation. "We fight all the time," says Lupe, but fails to give a reason. After Bobbe Arnst had divorced Weissmuller on grounds of cruelty over a year ago, she, too, said she still loved Johnny, but that Hollywood had got him. Sharp-shooting, hero-worshipping beauties of the film capital flocked about the screen Tarzan until Miss Arnst remarked that "sending a big kid like Johnny to Hollywood was like throwing a fatted calf into a cage of lions." Lupe and Johnny were married last October at Las Vegas, Nev. Previously Weissmuller had said if he married Miss Velez he'd have gray hair in three months.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

TWO MORE NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

We would like to join your club. As we are a little too young to read or write our Aunt Peggie is writing this letter for us. She tells us about you and also reads us some of the letters that appear in your Kiddie Klub Corner. We will try to keep after Aunt Peg to write our letters to you, when she is not doing her home work.

When we are older, we hope to join the entertainers. We all wonder if Baby Janice is going to be a dancer. Although she is only eight months, she can make those little feet go almost as good as Ruby Keeler.

Hoping you will accept us as members, we close with love to you and Mrs. Sunshine.

Two new members,

Baby Janice, 8 months.
Ann Marie Walker, 2 years

Daddy Sunshine is more than happy to have you both in his club. It was indeed very kind of Auntie Peggie to write for you, and here's hoping she will be your secretary for a long time to come. Daddy Sunshine will be looking forward to many more interesting letters from you. He is certain you both will become excellent entertainers as you grow older. Hope to meet you at the Washington Birthday party of the club at the Women's Clubhouse on Governors ave, on the afternoon of Feb. 22nd.

A NEW MEMBER SENDS IN RULES

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

- Be thrifty.
- Be accurate.
- Be helpful.
- Be kind.
- Be neat and clean.
- Be generous.
- Have pride.

These are the seven golden rules that I made up. May I receive a theatre ticket from you?

Sincerely yours,

Robert Oliver.

WATCH CONGRESS

It is an unfortunate thing that President Roosevelt's budget message to the Seventy-Third Congress will, like all such documents, receive only the most cursory reading. Few budget messages have been as unusual or as important—few, have, through statistics, so well illustrated an Administration's aims and purposes.

The budget situation has three distinct phases: First, the government is to borrow $10,000,000,000 between now and end of the fiscal year—a rate exceeding monthly borrowings made when we were in the thick of the war; second, at end of the fiscal year we will have the largest peacetime deficit in our history—$7,000,000,000; third, beginning with the next fiscal year in July, the financial policy will be entirely reversed—no special expenditures of any moment, and Treasury receipts above those actually needed for routine operation of the government, will be used to reduce the deficit.

Mr. Roosevelt thus believes that by the middle of this year extraordinary measures will no longer be required to speed recovery. He is as awake as anyone to their terrific cost, and he has implicit faith that time will prove them to be worth a great deal more than the people have had to pay for them. Part of their cost has been alleviated by his insistence on drastic economy so far as ordinary federal expenditures are concerned. The President has advised members of the House, where all appropriations must be inaugurated, that further expenditures would be extremely undesirable.

The Treasury is looking forward to 1934-35 with hopes for increased revenues. Estimates forecast a rise in income tax returns which will bring them to $1,265,000,000, as compared with $864,000,000 this year. The processing tax on farm products is expected to jump 30 per cent, customs receipts 17 per cent. Internal revenue taxes, because of liquor, should swell substantially. The President has said that he contemplates no new taxes and that some of the less important ones may be reduced or eliminated.

Watch the present Congress, not only for what it does in running the government, but in preparing for the political future. In 1934 every member of the House must face the electorate once more. Main Republican trouble is lack of party discipline; as soon as a candidate is elected on the Republican platform, he is apt to desert his party. Contrasted with this, the Democrats are wonders in maintaining a unified front.

Sunk Vote Harpoon in Kingfish

Happy after administering the first substantial political shellacking Senator Huey Long has received since he took control of Louisiana, Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans relaxes at home with his wife after beating the Long candidate in the mayoralty race by more than 16,000 votes in the recent primary.

FRANK GOODWIN TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Frank A. Goodwin, former Registrar of Motor Vehicles and at present Chairman of the Boston Finance Commission, yesterday announced his candidacy for the nomination for Governor in the September primaries of both the Republican and Democratic parties. He said: "I take this occasion to announce my candidacy for Governor in both the Republican and Democratic primaries to be held in September.

There was a time when political parties stood for clearly defined principles and ideals but today they represent nothing.

They are merely necessary evils, under our two party system, and the two predominant parties now differ only in that they are manipulated by two different groups of politicians who are controlled in turn by organized groups seeking and getting special privileges. Both the national committeemen of the Democratic Party and of the Republican Party in Massachusetts are, or have been, in the same law firm and that law firm represents our banking dictator, power companies and other public utilities. Neither party in this state any longer represents the people.

Consequently I am not interested in, nor shall I be bound by, the decision of the hand-picked delegates in either convention to be held in June, and I think it is safe to say that the voters will feel likewise.

I believe firmly in the principles and purpose of the New Deal which is bringing about a planned and orderly revolution under the guiding hand of our great President Franklin D. Roosevelt. These same principles, of equal justice for all and special privileges for none, were the foundation stones upon which were built both the Democratic and Republican parties by their two great founders, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

The Republican Party leadership of Bacon and Richardson in this stage suggests more readily the House of Morgan than Abraham Lincoln and the Ely-Bentley Warren-Stop Roosevelt leadership of the Democratic Party bears no resemblance whatever to the theories of government as practiced and preached by Thomas Jefferson.

In this great crisis I believe the people are sick and tired of both parties and their broken promises and I offer my candidacy accompanied by a record for honesty, executive ability, experience and independence."

LOEW'S ORPHEUM

"Fugitive Lovers," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's stirring melodrama starring Robert Montgomery and five big acts of vaudeville comprise the entertaining program this week at Loew's Orpheum.

The Duke McHale Revue presents the Demarest Sisters and Foy Tucker and Johnson in a dynamic and colorful musical presentation called, "Dancing Fools." Comedy is the high note of the Russ, Elmer and Armstrong act, "Three Gentlemen of Culture," Ben Marks sings, talks and dances in "The Love Shop" while the other acts are Irving Edwards in "Just Young and Careless," and Tankal & Okinu in an Oriental offering.

As an extra added attraction the popular radio star, Lew Ashe offers an entertaining program of latest song hits entitled, "Moments of Melody."

Short screen subjects complete the bill.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

by
Edson R. White

It is an ancient axiom that "from little causes great events do spring."

There are a few cities in this country where the merchants fight each other. Citizens who fight each other keep the home town in an uproar all the time and then wonder why business does not get better and why the city does not grow.

From press reports I note that Germany has a Minister of Propaganda. Well, that's nothing new to us. We have plenty of them in this country.

The advertisements in this newspaper throw a powerful light to guide you as to where and when to buy.

Members of Congress should not at any time keep the people in ignorance of what really is happening and should always give them a knowledge of affairs as they go along, painting a picture of future prospects.

It needs no stretch of imagination to realize how tiresome it is when you sit down to listen to a program of music on the radio and are bombarded with a lot of advertising. When most people want to find where to buy, they read the advertisements in the newspapers. When they want entertainment, they turn on the radio. Advertisers should stop and think this over.

The road to success should be paved with good deeds for your city.

—Among the recent arrivals in the Nation's Capitol registered at the Hotel Commodore, Washington, D. C. from Arlington are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davidson.

Brattle Hill Group Hears Candidates

An officers' meeting of the Brattle Hill Improvement Association, was held at the home of its newly elected President, Fred Irving, 155 Brattle st, on Wednesday evening. The report of the Secretary and Treasurer was read and accepted.

Ernest Davis, who was invited by the association to its meeting, was introduced by Mr. Boyd as the first speaker of the evening. He gave the group gathered a very enlightening talk. He very kindly answered questions and assured the association he would endeavor to help them in their fine purposes.

Loren Marsh was next introduced by Mr. Boyd and also gave a very fine talk in regard to matters dealing with the Board of Public Works. He stated he was against the barns on Summer st, and so confirmed the unanimous opinion of the people that they should be removed.

It is the purpose of the organization to be non-political, but to have all members who are running for public office speak before the organization so that the people may have a better chance to become acquainted with the candidates. Edward T. Ryan who is running for reelection to the Board of Public Works will be the next speaker. The people of the vicinity of Brattle st, who are interested in the removal of the town barns appreciate Mr. Ryan's efforts towards this purpose, and also to the other members of the board.

FROZEN FUNDS BEING RETURNED TO PEOPLE BY BANKS IN MASS.

A total of $1,751,892, or 33.9 per cent of the deposits of the bank at the time of its closing, have been released by the Medford Trust Co., according to a general survey made of the various sums released by the different banks throughout the state which closed during the depression period.

In all about $47,794,302 has been released by closed banks out of a total of $108,455,532 represented in deposits, or an average of 41.6 per cent.

Massachusetts banks stand high in the amount which has been repaid depositors while the net shrinkage in accounts is small, compared with other states in the Union.

In an article dealing with the matter, the Christian Science Monitor publishes the following:

With the release of $44,500,000 of the impounded funds in state-chartered Massachusetts banks, the Commonwealth presents a record for getting money back to depositors, unexcelled by any other State.

This is the conclusion of the special commission for the investigation and study of the banking structure, which has compiled comparative figures on the process of bank liquidations among the states.

In Massachusetts 349,623 depositors tucked their bankbooks away like useless withered leaves, but through the revivifying activities of the Bank Commissioner's office the owners of 319,255 of these books have taken them out of storage to the bank windows for a portion of their savings.

Altogether 41.6 per cent of the impounded bank assets have been liquidated. Although 17 state-chartered banks closed their doors before the bank holiday, it was found that conservators were needed for but five Massachusetts banks. Only one Massachusetts bank has been unable to release some part of its deposits, and if this bank should declare a dividend, the committee asserts the liquidation record of the Commonwealth would excel that of all other states.

The commercial depositors have not fared so well, the report shows. Whereas all but 7832 of the savings depositors have received a portion of their savings, there are 22,536 commercial depositors unable to realize a cent on their bank books.

The process of liquidation has been considerably accelerated during the last two months by loans from the RFC. Some apprehension has developed among state officials relative to accepting this assistance, for the RFC makes its loans through the purchase of preferred stock in the beneficiary banks, thus gaining voting power and potential control over state banks.

Massachusetts has maintained such a record for bank stability that Senator Joseph B. Cotton, chairman of the bank committee, has concluded the system of banking in the Commonwealth was safer than any other, the Federal Reserve System not excluded.

Indicative of this stability is the record of deposit shrinkage from 1931 to 1933, contrasted with two of the leading banking states; thus

	Shrinkage
Pennsylvania	23.6 per cent
Illinois	36.5 per cent
Massachusetts	12.5 per cent

Again Massachusetts' state banks have emerged ahead of the national banks, for when the banking hiatus was over, conservators were required for only five state banks, but for 15 national banks in the Commonwealth.

Contrasted with the 20 some banks, which all told failed to obtain licenses after the bank holiday, there were 5227 such throughout the nation, 1327 of which were Federal Reserve banks.

But the banking committee is not satisfied with a record of comparative stability. Senator Cotton said, and to this end the report recommends many reforms, to which, according to the Senator, no sincere or efficient banker can consistently object.

The accompanying table illustrates the progress in the relief of deposits in state banks.

WANTS AUTO STEALING MADE A FELONY

Police Commissioner Hultman urged the Legislative Committee on the Judiciary yesterday to make misappropriation of an automobile a felony and to allow courts to give jail sentences to suspicious persons. PROBLEM FOR MALDEN POLICE

The Malden police were given a mysterious case to solve last night when they received a report that a young woman was kidnapped on Pleasant st in that city.

They received a telephone call from a man who said that he resided in Winthrop and had seen a woman about 23 years old bundled into an automobile. He declared that a big car drove up to the sidewalk as the young woman was walking down the street and two men pushed her into the machine while she screamed her protest. The informant stated that the car bore

Rhode Island registration plates but that he could not secure the number.

STATE POLICE TO HAVE FINGER PRINT EXPERT

All barracks of the State police will soon be equipped with a fingerprint expert, according to a plan of the heads of the Department of Public Safety. In the past two fingerprint experts have done practically all of the work for the whole State.

They were going from one end of the State to the other in connection with minor offences or to places where there were no practicable prints.

Under the system that is being worked out, a trooper from each of the 22 barracks will be schooled in the fine art of taking prints off articles and property where crimes have been committed.

MCCORMACK URGES USE OF CHELSEA BUILDINGS

Representative McCormack, Dem. (Mass.), today recommended to Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, that certain buildings at the Chelsea, Mass., Naval Hospital should be used for hospitalization of veterans in the Greater Boston area.

McCormack said it would appear that the use of the Chelsea property would be possible, in view of the extension of hospitalization proposed by the President and pointed out that at present an eastern Massachusetts veteran was compelled to go to Newington, Ct., a considerable distance, for such treatment. The quarters suggested are now unused.

Preparing News Material To Be Subject Of Series

"Preparing News Material for Publication" is the subject of a series of lectures to be given Thursdays, 7.25 to 9.15 p. m., beginning February 1, 1934, at Old South Meeting House, Washington and Milk sts, Boston, by Charles R. Manchester, News Editor, The Boston Globe. The series is sponsored by the State Department of Education.

Because so many successful authors of today have come from the ranks of newspapermen it is generally recognized that training in newspaper writing is a valuable preparation for any sort of writing career.

This is a course in practical writing, based upon actual newspaper methods. It will be helpful to prospective reporters, correspondents, copy readers, feature story writers, and persons engaged in free lance journalism or publicity work. It will give instruction on the proper way to prepare copy for the consideration of the editor. The course will deal with copy reading, headline writing, proof reading, newspaper make-up, and rewrite and follow-up stories.

A feature of the course will be the use of a style sheet, which will give inexperienced newspaper workers an understanding of the procedure on metropolitan dailies. The lectures will contain suggestions for the successful marketing of copy.

Enrollment in this class may be made at the University Extension office, Room 217, State House, or at the first meeting of the course. Your courtesy in calling the course to the attention of other persons who might be interested in it will be appreciated.

Plot of Play

Portia is one of Shakespeare's most excellent women. She is a rich, beautiful orphan whom many suitors try to win. By her father's will it was ordered that he who made the right choice among three caskets of gold, silver and lead should be the accepted suitor.

A noble Venetian named Bassanio wished to try his luck with the other suitors, but he had lost his money and is not worthy under this condition. Antonio, his friend and a merchant, helps him by borrowing 3000 ducats for three months from Shylock, a Jewish money-lender, and agreeing to the lender's conditions that he be given a pound of his flesh if the money were not paid when due.

Bassanio wins the lady, but meantime Antonio's fortune is lost, and the time comes due for the bond. Shylock wants revenge, and he is decidedly embittered because his daughter Jessica had eloped with Lorenzo, a friend of Bassanio and Antonio. Bassanio hurries off to Venice, and Portia follows him.

She disguises herself as a lawyer, and presides over the trial. By her wit and power, Shylock is turned away and for him the whole affair means disaster. He is not brought into the play again, but his part is one of grave importance, and one which requires more than mediocre acting.

Battis to Play Shylock

Emery Battis, the actor who played "Grumpy" last year, is well able to handle such a difficult part as Shylock. During last summer's vacation, he joined a stock company in New Hampshire. He played parts in Noel Coward's "Hayfever" and in "The Good Fairy." He is planning to return to the company next summer.

Lorraine Miller, who portrays Portia, is a sophomore with recognized acting ability. She had a part in "Robin Hood" the operetta presented by the Junior High West last year.

The two Gobbos, Paul Kennedy and Floyd Battis are very clever at bringing in comedy relief. They will furnish many a good laugh. Other members of the cast are also outstanding in their dramatic ability.

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE TO HOUSE WITH FAMILY AWAY

nine-year prison sentence. Because of this break every door in the house was heavily bolted and chained to prevent further breaks while the family was out. As a result, firemen had a difficult time in gaining entrance into the dwelling and were forced to crash through a rear door leading to the kitchen. The heat inside the house was terrific when firemen arrived and the blaze was going well. One door between the kitchen and hallway was a mass of flames. This was soon extinguished and firemen then confined most of their efforts to the kitchen and upstairs chambers. Furniture in the living room was covered with tarpaulins and canvass to protect them and although several lines of hose were laid, only one stream was used to prevent water damage as far as possible.

Blaze Spread Fast

That the flames worked their way through the house with incredible speed is evidenced by the fact that a real estate broker was inspecting the inside of the house only an hour or so before the fire was discovered. At the time there was no sign of fire, according to the real estate man.

The blaze broke through the slate roof to escape. Flying glass endangered the firefighters but none was injured. Settling on a hillside, the house is visible plainly and the heavy clouds of smoke caused considerable attraction. The police detail, in charge of Sergeant Daniel P. Barry kept the crowd well in check however. Representative Nelson B. Crosby, who lives nearby, was at the scene of the fire where he watched the firemen at work for a long while.

The house is a one-and-one half story dwelling and one of the most attractive in this section of Arlington. It is occupied by the Kelleher family, only Mrs. Kelleher being the daughter of former Mayor Cashman of Newburyport.

JOHN HINES, WELL KNOWN ACTOR AT HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

By RUTH DOLIOFF

At an assembly held yesterday at the senior high school, John Hines, well-known actor, gave a reading of the three act comedy "David Garrick".

Mr. Hines took all parts himself impersonating the father; Ada, the daughter; the butler; David Garrick, a great Shakespearean actor; the very English cousin and a group of visitors.

"David Garrick" is the story of a man who has no use for the works of Shakespeare. The first act introduces David Garrick, the famous actor who has fallen in love with Ada. He does not know that she is the gentleman's daughter. The father tells him that Ada is in love with him, but Garrick has not seen her yet.

He tells the father that he will not marry until the father of the lady came to him and offers his daughter.

In the second act Garrick acts intoxicated. This is to spurn the girl's love to please the father. The visitors are horrified and rush home.

The third act takes place in Garrick's apartment. The daughter comes in, and because she is followed by her cousin, she hides. Garrick and the cousin go out. Then the father comes in and discovers Ada. In the end he comes to Garrick and offers his daughter. He seems to have changed his opinion regarding Shakespeare.

Mr. Grammons, the principal, read the honor role before he introduced the reader.

and would suggest a good government league and the basis of its demands, should be economical government and reasonable taxation. The constitution should read, we will suspend any member or all "Defeatist" a person who is easily discouraged, who wants power, popularity, a place in the spotlight, a person who makes a racket of discouragement since he can't make a record a game sport. He proceeds to make a record as a grouch. The worst menace in any organization is the "Big Cry Baby" who won't see any good in anybody, even if he could, unless it concerns who he has in mind. Perhaps if the Citizens committee adopt this as a part of their constitution it would eliminate difficulties. Mr. Davis you as my opponent for the office of Selectman, approve our State Representatives' action in the Legislature. Once again I would like to call your attention for your approval the "Boston Elevated Railway Bill," ordered in the Senate February 8, 1933 as the following "That in view of the unusual burdens under which the taxpayers, of the cities and towns of the Metropolitan transit district are laboring in these distressful economic times, and in view of the extraordinary hardship which will result of adding to their present financial burdens, that of meeting deficits assessed to meet current deficits in the operation of the Boston Elevated Railway, the directors of said company are urgently requested by the General Court to forego the declaration of dividends on the common stock of said company, for a period of two years as a means of reducing such assessments." Did you know Mr. Davis that our town Senator Charles C. Warren voted against this Bill? Did you ask him? of course not, you have not the courage or any member of the Citizens Committee. You advocate cutting of wages, slashing of our public works appropriations, school appropriations with your strict economy program to drive 394 families on the welfare, costing the town in 1933, $226,000.

Why all this strict economy Mr. Davis? When the town's borrowing power is in excellent condition. Strict economy is all right when properly used but you have gone to the extreme. Look! at our welfare department costs. Mr. Davis in 1932 the Boston Elevated Railway, deficit for Metropolitan towns and cities was approximately around three million dollars. The town of Arlington's share was approximately around $36,000, now Mr. Davis you will recall the statement made by you at the town meeting in 1933 that the deficit for that year would be around $55,000 or in that vicinity. Do you consider it fair Mr. Davis to cut wages and appropriations to pay dividends to every share holder of the Boston Elevated Railway to the amount of five dollars a share for 1933. I do not put this blame on you Mr. Davis but I do to the extent that it was your duty as Chairman of the finance board to call this matter to the attention of the public when you were delivering your speech at the Chamber of Commerce dinner in your honor for the candidacy of Selectman on December 6, 1933. You know Mr. Davis it once was cynically said in discussing the characteristics of two political parties that the Democrat party had all the courage and heart, and the Republican party the brains. Well, I certainly cannot agree on that with the Citizens Committee lineup or the State Representatives they support. Who ever made that statement previously perhaps was thinking of the time of Washington and Lincoln or Thomas Jefferson.
